QUESTION SESSION

All those hours spent in front of the tube watching America's favorite sports network will finally pay off with something besides a wider ass. Demonstrate your supreme sports knowledge with the ESPN All Sports Trivia Challenge (www.usaopoly.com), which features more than 1,500 questions in 10 sports categories. After you conquer this, maybe you can start to think about attaining that thing called "a life."

FILTER UP

In these difficult economic times, the dedicated souse is finding that he must reach for the lower shelves at the liquor store. The Gray Kangaroo Personal Liquor Filter (www.graykangaroo.com) eliminates the hangovers that cheaper booze can cause by removing particles and harmful toxins from your hooch before you quaff it down. Studies (OK – our own benders) show that filtered liquor is competitive with brands that cost three times as much – so you can still maintain a Richard Burton lifestyle on a Chuck Bukowski budget.

PUFF PIECE

With a flavor as smooth as a baby's bottom (uh, wait...), Luis Martinez Silver Selection cigars (www.luismartinez.com) combine a tasty blend of Nicaraguan and Honduran filler tobacco, which is aged a full three years. The medium-bodied stogies are hand-rolled with a savory, Cuban-seed, Nicaraguan binder and Ecuadorian sun-grown wrapper, delivering a superior smoke that won't bust your budget.

PUTT'S HAPPENING

Typically, golfers try to reduce the number of strokes they take in a game, but the Putt-Her club from BlueBall Sports (www.noveltyputters.com) may reverse that goal. Similar to the "nudie pens" of yore, which revealed a bare dame when they were tipped upside-down, this club appears to be a normal putter when you pull it from your golf bag. As you turn it over to putt, however, the shaft reveals an image of a scantily clad vixen. Yeah, it may not be regulation-compliant, but it's a great bit of fore play.
